Data transfer to a third country or an international organization

The website is hosted in data centers located in Switzerland, a country with privacy legislation that the European Commission considers protective for Data Subjects.

In addition, it is noted that the Data Controller uses certain IT services that may involve a transfer of data outside the European Economic Area. This will take place in compliance with the specific guarantees for the protection of personal data provided for by the relevant regulations:

- The destination countries have privacy legislation that the European Commission considers protective for Data Subjects.
- Companies within the same corporate group as the provider are bound by corporate rules approved by the competent Supervisory Authority.
- Entities established in the United States of America adhere to a data processing agreement reached by the U.S.A. and the European Commission, which guarantees certain protections to Data Subjects.
- Entities that do not meet any of the previous conditions have signed standard contractual clauses prepared by the European Commission to protect Data Subjects.

Rights of the data subjects

The individual to whom the personal data refers is recognized the following rights:

- Access: It is possible to know if a processing of one's personal data is underway and, if so, obtain access to them and request a copy.
- Rectification: It is possible to request the update of one's personal data, their correction (if inaccurate), and the integration of incomplete ones.
- Erasure: It is possible to obtain the erasure of one's personal data upon the occurrence of certain conditions (for more information, contact the Data Controller).
- Restriction: It is possible to request that the data be marked so as to limit their future processing upon the occurrence of certain conditions (for more information, contact the Data Controller).
- Objection: It is possible to object to the processing of personal data for reasons related to one's particular situation, where the processing is based on legitimate interest or is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or connected to the exercise of official authority vested in the Data Controller.
- Portability: It is possible to receive the personal data provided to the Data Controller in a structured format and transmit them to another data controller if the processing is based on consent or a contract and is carried out by automated means.
- Withdrawal of consent: It is possible to withdraw consent for the purposes that required it, without prejudice to the lawfulness of the processing carried out up to that point.

The rights that can concretely be exercised with respect to the processing activities carried out are:

Purpose Exercisable Right
